WESTERN LEBANON COUNTY REGIONAL POLICE DEPARTMENT

Since its creation, the Western Lebanon County Regional Police Department continues to strive to keep up with the evolving new challenges it faces in everyday police work through continued training of their officers and command staff. This is to provide the most professional services possible to the municipalities we serve. Officer training is a critical asset to the department. In 2025, selected officers have taken training in the following:

- Drug Recognition Expert – (First Municipal Officer in Lebanon County)
- Accident Reconstruction (as part of the Lebanon County Serious Traffic Accident Reconstruction Team)
- Alert Training – (to deal with active shooter incidents)
- Tactile Leadership Class
- Use of Force Analysis Training

325 S. Railroad St.
Palmyra, Pa
P: 717-838-8189
P: 717-838-8188

On March 25, 2025, the Western Lebanon County Regional Police Department completed the process to become an Accredited Police Department through the Pennsylvania Law Enforcement Accreditation Commission. Currently, the Western Lebanon County Regional Police Department is the only accredited law enforcement agency in Lebanon County. Being an accredited law enforcement agency shows that the department is staying current and meeting the best practices in law enforcement.

Celebrate! Annville 2026

Celebrate! Annville announces a variety of family-friendly activities for 2026. In celebration of the nation's semi quincentennial, twenty American 250 banners paid for by donations made to Celebrate! Annville and sponsorship by the Micheal Sechman Team of Keller Williams Realty will line Main Street. The committee is also planning an American 250 porch decorating contest for Annville Township residents. This year, eight flowering pole baskets will hang near the square at Routes 422 and 934 thanks to donations. The number of baskets may expand in 2027 should experimentation with their care and management, plus additional funds, permit.

MAKE SURE TO CHECK OUT THE EVENTS ON THE ANNVILLE TOWNSHIP WEBSITE
CALENDAR

During the 2025 holiday season, the committee worked with the Annville Township Public Works to display NEW lighted wreaths and snowflakes along Main Street and a lighted tree on the Main Street Plaza.
